Instructors: Steve King, Pat Mooney, and
C.C. Skoch

Jr. Sail Chair: Jane O'Brien (285-5049)
Race Coordinators:
Jane O'Brien and Beth Burns

Welcome to the 2004 sailing classes. We currently have 40 sailors registered and participating in their second week of class. To help insure a safe, productive, and fun summer, please come forward with any questions or concerns as soon as they come up.

Wonderful weather and your wonderful kids have helped get us off to a great start. The Beginner Class started off on a reaching course last week and is now tackling the challenge of sailing upwind. Monday's heavier air turned Sail Camp into "Bail Camp" when a few sailors put their capsized drill to use. Weather permitting, the Intermediate Class is getting out in the Flying Juniors and are really enjoying the speed and the leg room. The Advanced Class sailors are using FJs and lasers. They have been working on boat handling and spinnakers.

The new schedule seems to be working well. However, since the instructors have very little time between classes, we are asking that the sailors come on time for class, but not early. For the safety of your children, your cooperation is appreciated.

Please note that the Intermediate Class start time on Tuesday and Thursday has been changed from 11:30 to 11:45.

Sandusky, June 19th—We sent seven sailors and six boats to Sandusky Bay on Saturday. Everyone sailed hard in windy, cool waters. Maggie Junkin brought home a plaque for finishing third in the laser radial fleet. Logan Barnhill completed his first regatta in a laser, finishing 13th. Colleen O'Brien and Kevin Schneiders raced optis in the gold fleet and finished fifth and eighth, respectively. Kate Gregory and Ryan Schneiders sailed in the FJ, finishing 18th, and Tim O'Brien sailed a laser, but had to retire due to an equipment failure.

Special thanks to Miller Boat Line for helping transport our teams, coaches, and chaperones off the island.
